MEMORANDUM OF LAW IN SUPPORT OF WILLIAMS AND NAACP
PLAINTIFFS' MOTION TO CLARIFY OR MODIFY ALLOTTED TRIAL TIME

Williams Plaintiffs and NAACP Plaintiffs (collectively, “Plaintiffs”) respectfully move the Court to clarify—or in the alternative, modify—the allotted trial time described in its May 15, 2025 Order, ECF No. 115. Legislative Defendants and State Board Defendants take no position on this motion.

Plaintiffs first respectfully request the Court clarify whether the Court’s May 15, 2025 Order was intended to limit trial to the week of June 16, 2025, which would result in a 4-day trial in light of the federal holiday on June 19, 2025. On May 1, 2024, the Court acknowledged that all parties estimated a 10-day trial and directed the parties to modify proposed deadlines in their Joint Rule 26(f) Report in accordance with an anticipated mid-June 2024 trial date. See May 1, 2024 Text Order issued by Judge Allison Jones Rushing, Chief Judge Richard E. Myers II, and Judge Thomas D. Schroeder. On May 22, 2024, the Court approved the parties’ Amended Joint Rule 26(f) Report, in which the parties estimated that trial would “last approximately 10 days.” ECF No. 47 at 5; ECF No. 48. Accordingly, Plaintiffs have proceeded to prepare for trial with the expectation that it would last approximately ten court days. The Court’s May 15, 2025 Order, however, indicates that the “Court has up to 26 hours of trial time available the week of June 16, 2025,” with 13 hours total for all Plaintiffs and 13 hours total for all Defendants. ECF No. 115 at 4. It is not clear to Plaintiffs whether the Court intends to be available for trial the week of June 23, 2025. Therefore, Plaintiffs respectfully move the Court to clarify whether the parties can expect additional trial time during the week of June 23, 2025.

In the event the Court intended to limit trial to 26 hours of trial time during the week of June 16, Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court modify its order to allow additional trial time to fully consider the claims at issue in these consolidated cases. In support, Plaintiffs refer the Court to the parties' pretrial disclosures, including witness lists, filed on May 16, 2025, so that the Court can make "an informed analysis based on a review of the parties' proposed witness lists and proffered testimony, as well as their estimates of trial time." Raynor v. G4S Secure Sols. (USA), Inc., 805 F. App'x 170, 178 (4th Cir. 2020) (internal citation omitted).

The parties' pretrial disclosures, see ECF Nos. 116–118, confirm that more than 26 hours of trial time is necessary for the presentation of testimony in these cases. The claims in these cases are factually intensive ones; both intent claims and Section 2 claims require considerable factual development and expert testimony. See N.C. State Conf. of NAACP v. McCrory, 831 F.3d 204, 220 (4th Cir. 2016) ("When considering whether discriminatory intent motivates a facially neutral law, a court must undertake a 'sensitive inquiry into such circumstantial and direct evidence of intent as may be available'" (quoting Vill. of Arlington Heights v. Metro. Hous. Dev. Corp., 429 U.S. 252, 266 (1977))); see also Thornburg v. Gingles, 478 U.S. 30, 79 (1986) ("Th[e Section 2] determination is peculiarly dependent upon the facts of each case and requires an intensely local appraisal.") (cleaned up). Moreover, Plaintiffs' claims—from two consolidated cases with largely separate evidence—challenge multiple maps and several districts within each map. To evaluate

Plaintiffs' claims, the Court will need an understanding of both the Congressional Map and the Senate Map, and possibly the House Map—a considerable undertaking.¹

In light of the breadth and complexity of these claims, Plaintiffs have considerable evidence to present, including from both expert and fact witnesses whose testimony will span from the map-drawing process to technical analyses of the racial impact of the maps to the Senate Factors under Section 2 of the VRA, that this Court must consider in weighing Plaintiffs' claims. In total, the parties anticipate calling 39 unique witnesses, 13 of whom are experts.

At the Court's instruction, Plaintiffs intend to diligently confer with Defendants on Joint Exhibits, Joint Stipulations, and the potential limitation or elimination of opening and closing arguments to streamline the presentation of evidence but believe that it would be difficult (if not impossible) to present two consolidated cases involving multiple maps, several complex claims, 13 expert witnesses, and 26 fact witness within 26 hours. Other redistricting cases concerning similar claims have allowed for a more fulsome presentation of evidence. In the recent Milligan v. Allen, No. 2:21-cv-1530 (N.D. Ala.) trial, which involved similar Section 2 and intentional discrimination claims about only Alabama's congressional map, the Court afforded 11 trial days for evidence.² Similarly, in the recent Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc. v. Raffensperger, No. 1:21-cv-05337 (N.D. Ga.) trial, which involved Section 2 results claims only (i.e., no intent claims) over Georgia's congressional and legislative maps, the Court afforded 8 trial days for evidence. And although Plaintiffs do not seek anywhere near this amount of time, in the upcoming League of United Latin American Citizens v. Abbott, No. 3:21-cv-00259 (W.D. Tex.) trial, which is set to begin this week and involves similar Section 2 and intentional discrimination claims, the three-judge court has set aside a minimum of 19 trial days to hear testimony.

In light of the nature of the claims at issue in these consolidated cases, Plaintiffs believe that more than 26 hours is required to adequately present the relevant evidence. Plaintiffs have conferred on the minimum reasonable amount of time required to present their evidence and respectfully request an additional 26 hours of trial time, split evenly among Plaintiffs and Defendants, which still amounts to less than the ten days of trial originally anticipated. If the Court has concern about its availability later into the week of June 23, Plaintiffs are amenable to longer court days continuing after 5 pm and/or holding proceedings on the June 19 holiday or weekend days on June 21 and/or 22.

In our meet and confer, the Legislative Defendants and State Board Defendants report that they take no position on this motion but ask that if the Court does grant additional trial time, that it is split equally between Plaintiffs and Defendants. Plaintiffs agree that all trial time should be split equally between Plaintiffs and Defendants.

² In this 11-day trial, the court heard live testimony from fewer witnesses than the parties anticipate calling here. Specifically, in Milligan, 23 witnesses testified live, including 13 experts; 28 additional witnesses testified by designation. See Injunction and Order: Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law at x, Milligan, No. 2:21-cv-1530 (N.D. Ala. May 10, 2025), ECF No. 490.

Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court clarify its May 15, 2025 Order regarding the allotted time for trial and respectfully request the Court modify that Order in light of the considerations above and the parties' recently filed pretrial disclosures to permit an additional 26 hours of trial time, representing a total of 26 hours for Plaintiffs, jointly, and 26 hours for Defendants, jointly.

A proposed order is submitted with this Motion.
